The Youngest Marcher: The Story Of A Young Civil Rights Activist

Grades K-3

Nine-year-old Audrey Faye Hendricks intended to go places and do things like anybody else. So when she heard grown-ups talk about wiping out Birmingham's segregation laws, she spoke up. Audrey Faye Hendricks was confident and bold and brave as can be!

Draw pictures of when you stood up to someone when you thought what they were doing was wrong. Show yourself in the center. Include details and label your picture.
